WHY ENQUIRY EMAILS ARE NOT REACHING YOU

> The form is not actually sending anything. When someone presses send, the website opens a half-written email inside their own email app and leaves it there for them to send.
>
> Most people never finish it. Many have no email app set up at all. So the enquiry disappears, and you are never told. That is why your test never arrived.

WHAT NEEDS TO HAPPEN

Your website sits on free hosting that can show pages but cannot send email by itself. A small helper service does the sending. It is free for normal volumes and takes about ten minutes to set up.

1. You open a free account at formspree.io using info@ntfint.com — the inbox you want enquiries in.
2. You click the confirmation link they email you. Nothing works until this is done. This is where most people get stuck.
3. Send that short web address across to us. It looks like formspree.io/f/abcd1234.
4. We connect it to the form and test it. That takes a few minutes at our end.
5. You send one test enquiry from the live site and check your inbox, and the spam folder. Mark the first one as “not spam”.

> After that: every enquiry arrives in your inbox within seconds, and a copy is kept online in case an email ever goes missing. Keep WhatsApp on the site as well — most buyers in this trade reply there faster.

ADDING A NEW PRODUCT

The website is not edited page by page. All the products live in one list, and the site rebuilds itself from that list — the collection tile, the product page, the search and the site map all appear on their own.

WHAT WE NEED FROM YOU

1. One clear photo of the product, as big a file as you have.
2. The name, and which of the five lines it belongs to.
3. Sizes you make it in, and the minimum order quantity.
4. Three or four facts a buyer asks about: fabric or weight, how it is built, how it can be branded.
5. One or two lines describing it, in your own words. We will tidy them.

> Send those over on WhatsApp and the product is live on the site the same day. A whole new collection works the same way — its name, a photo and its products.

TWO THINGS WORTH KNOWING

Nothing is ever lost

Every change is saved with a date, so anything can be put back exactly as it was.

Changes go live in a minute

Once a change is published, the site updates itself. Your visitors do nothing.

Your next step: open the free form account, click the confirmation email, and send the address over. That one job is the difference between enquiries reaching you and quietly disappearing.
